15. DIGITAL COVERAGE

The rising of mobile phone users and social media changed the way we look at the sport of Volleyball including our engagement to that unique sport. There are many different social media platforms like Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and YouTube. Fans worldwide can use these social media platforms conveniently in their daily lives. Social media has also become an important tool for promoting events, distributing content, attracting new readers and creating more engagement to teams and athletes.

The participating clubs should use social media to promote the CEV Clubs competitions. You may find below industry standards as well as social media tips that can be used throughout the season:

Description	Facebook/YouTube	Instagram	Twitter
Type of posts	Match Highlights Top plays Off-the-court content	Single rally clips Graphical clips	Single rally clips Match highlights
Ideal length	3 minutes or longer	< 1 minute	< 2 minutes

- Go “behind the scenes.” Make fans who are not at the event feel like they are there (and want to attend next time) by showing the scene on social media accounts. (e.g. show what the players are doing in their off time, before the game, etc.)
- Quote players: people love sharing a great quote. Make sure you use quotation marks and attribute it to the speaker.
- Think quality not quantity.

- Interaction between fans and athletes: when you post an interesting fact about a player, tag the athlete.
- Cross-post to other media. Make posts by attaching photos and videos of the event.
- Interact with people at the event. Share newsworthy posts by fans and credible sports journalists.

Participating clubs are also expected to engage and support the CEV Digital & TV department with the following actions:

- Promote the events via their own social media channels on a regular basis.
- Use the official competition hashtags whenever posting about it.
- Share on their social media behind the scene photos and video footage, showing the social side of players and staff, which can be re-tweeted or shared further on by the CEV.
- Provide the CEV with additional content to distribute on social media: the best promotion comes from the players themselves.
- Produce additional video material, such as mixed zone interviews in English, for publishing across social media channels.
- Engage with the CEV and other participating federations on social media by liking, sharing, reposting, following, retweeting content.

We are also able to confirm that the official #hashtags to be used throughout the season are:

#Volleyball – when referring to the sport of Volleyball

We want to remind that the 37th FIVB World Congress held earlier this year approved several proposed changes to the rules of the game. The new FIVB Rules of the Game will be implemented in the CEV Competitions starting from the CEV European Cups 2022 season.

To review the new FIVB Rules of the Game please click here.

Furthermore, there is a Badge Manager for the printing of the Badges for the home matches. Each club is responsible to print their players and team officials for the entire season (excluding Final phase of the respective competition). In addition, the badge can be printed on the dashboard by downloading every badge separately.

The guidelines on how to navigate through the software are available within the documents area in the accreditation system.

6. COVID-19 Information

In line with the latest trends in international sport and following the advice provided by the European Medical Commission (EMC), in an effort to provide an environment as safe as possible, the CEV Board of Administration recommends all people involved in the 2022 edition of the CEV European Cups to take the COVID-19 vaccination.

Apart from securing a higher immunity, vaccination will simplify all procedures associated with international travelling. At the same time, regardless of their vaccination status, we advise all stakeholders to check as regularly as possible the latest entry requirements adopted by national authorities in response to the coronavirus pandemic and to comply at all times with the measures adopted by the relevant health authorities as well as with the latest version of the CEV Hygiene Guidelines
